Driven to Theft by Hunger.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 20.

Mrs. Nellie Reach, a white woman was arrested to-day and locked up for breaking into a house and stealing a watch. The story is a pitiful one. Some months ago she, her husband and and infant child came to this city from the country. They could not get work and on Wednesday they were in a starving condition. Made desperate by hunger she entered a neighbor's house and took a watch which she pawned for a pittance and bought food for herself and family. She acknowledged the deed and it is thought she will not be prosecuted.

RELIGION IN THE FAMILY.

Never too Early to Approach Children with Religious Suggestions.

It is a remarkable thing in regard to little people that it is almost never too early to approach them with religious suggestion, writes Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst D. D., in the October Ladies' Home Journal. It is not what we say to them that makes them religious, it is the religious instinct already in them that makes intelligible to them whatever of a religious kind we say to them. The best that a child can become in this, as in every other respect, accrues from wisely handling and fostering some impulse already contained in the child's original dowry. If the beginnings of individual religion were not an implant no method of treatment, no ingenuity of culture could suffice to establish such a beginnning. Religion can be immanent in the child, and even be a part of his experience, without his being able yet to know it as religion, or being able yet to know it as religion, being able to comprehend the allusions made to it by his elders. * * * It holds in the twilight of life what is true in each dawning, that it begins to be morning a good while before there is sunshine enough in the air for the sun-dial to be able to tell us what o'clock it is. * * * The infant's eyes are full of light waiting to be greeted by the light of the sun so soon as its lids are lifted. The heart of the child is tuned to the things of God, and its strings are ready to become musical so soon as they are touched by a hand that knows how to stir them into resonance. It is a good while before the child and the earth come very close to one another, but on the contrary "Heaven lies about us in our infancy."

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES.

A Livery Stable, Three Residences and Chinese Laundry Go up in Smoke and Ashes.

The good people of McKinney were aroused by cries of fire and sounding of the usual fire alarms last Thursday night about 10 o'clock and hurriedly came from every quarter to find great volumns of smoke issueing from Warden's livery stable which was in a remarkably short time a seething, crackling, roaring mass of fiery billows.

The livery stood just north of the Waddill brick buildings on the north side of the square and was a frame structure which had only been erected about a year ago.

The fire was of unknown origin and broke out near the front entrance, soon enveloping the entire building in its angry embrace. Parties first on the scene after the alarm was given cut the halters of the horses tied in the stable and drove them all from the burning building, save one, which got in next to the high fence in the rear and would have been literally roasted alive had not a kind fireman secured a gun and mercifully shot the animal thus relieving it of its horrible torture. All the buggies, carriages and harness were saved by prompt and diligent action, but all the feed stuffs were destroyed. After the stable Sam Lee's Chinese laundry, rats, rice and all, adjoining on the immediate east, furnished fuel for the greedy flames, which soon darted north with the wind to the large frame building owned by S. J. B. Plemmons and occupied by Mrs. John W. Webb as a boarding house. This dry building was soon in cinders but most of the household fixtures were saved, though in a damaged condition.

Jesse Shain's residence on the north, tenented by Bob Dedmon, and a small unoccupied frame building just across the street west of this building were, also, soon smouldering in smoke and ashes.

Mr. Dedmon's household effects were saved in a damaged condition.

Surrounding walks, fences, etc. of the burned buildings were mostly destroyed, while Bill Miller's machine shop and residence, the electric light office and Hook & Ladder No. 2's room on the opposite side of the street were badly scorched. Mr. Miller will have to put a new roof on his shop.

The livery stable was owned by Smith Bros., who held about $800 insurance on it. These same gentlemen also owned the small building occupied by the Chinamen. Mr. Clarence Smith says their total loss over insurance will be close to $900. Mr. Warden had no insurance and sustained a loss of nearly $500.

Mr. Plemmon's building was not insured nor were Mrs. Webb's effects. Though the latter's loss amounted to little in dollars and cents it fell especially heavy upon her to whom her fatherless children looked for food and raiment, and our kind citizens demonstrated their genuine sympathy in a material way next day by generously donating their mites to the unfortunate widow.

Mr. Dedmon carried about $500 insurance on his household goods and Mr. Shain about $900 on the building.

Mr. Nenney's property was uninsured as was also Mr. Miller's.

Dr. Taylor's residence north of Mr. Dedmon's was saved with difficulty and his house furniture, which was uninsured, was badly damaged.

J. L. Lovejoy's beautiful residence caught fire several times from flying cinder's but each time the flames were promptly extinguished by the alert firemen who cannot be too loudly praised for their effective work and dangerous, costly sacrifices.

THE FIRE PROVED.

That the new engine is a paying investment.

That new and stronger hose is badly needed.

That the H. & L. boys No. 2 "get there" every time.

That McKinneyites turn out en masse to some things other than circuses.

That waterworks are absolutely imperative to our city's safety.

That it is high time for mossbacks to rouse up when "forked fire" is singing the luxuriant ferns on their petrified vertebrae.

That after having been kicked by a horse in the stable and fainting twice from the intense heat Arthur Anderson had the pluck to remain at his post, the nozzle of the hose, until all danger was passed.

That Jesse Atkinson had the "staying quality" to endure the awful heat at the nozzle as long as the stream was demanded.

That like loaded cartridges in the fire, lingering people linger no longer, but immediately "go off" when the explosions begin.

That the fire boys often ruin costly clothing in gratuously fighting fire to save some other fellow's property.

That the Fort Worth Gazette spoke truly when it said "McKinney's fire department is one of the best, if not the best, free fire fighter in the state."

The New Ethnological Congress of savage people which, after several years' efforts, has been brought to such magnificent proportions, is one of the most picturesque and weird sights ever afforded a civilized community. In it are representatives of all the heathen, idolatrous, and savage types of human beings known to exist, with their wives and children, horses, huts, weapons and domestic utensils, so that as grouped beneath the special canvas pavillion of the Barnum & Bailey Greatest show on earth, they present one of the most wonderful and instructive sights ever witnessed. They will be here with the show on the 17th of October.

R. Q. MILLS is actively engaged in making populist votes.

GOVERNOR Culberson seems to be floundering around in search of a successful hobby.

THE prospects are very flattering for Judge Nugent to become governor by common consent.

New York Democrats met in state convention this week. It gave a ringing endorsement of the Cleveland administration and declared against "60 cent dollars."

WE have, in vain, scanned the columns of our democratic exchanges of the fifth district for some expression regarding Bailey's boycot of populist working men. We believe that our democratic contemporaries secretly condemn Bailey's actions in the boycott business but are afraid of the eloquent, wily, bulldozing congresman.

IN recent campaigns democratic pollticians protest against the unconstitutionality of certain populist demands. If there has been a recent supreme court decision upholding a law passed by democratic legislature the humble writer hereof has not been apprised of the fact.

A DEMOCRATIC "sound money club" was organized Saturday night at Melissa. Col. R. DeArmond and Judge P. B. Muse were the speakers. The resolutions adopted contained these words, "Most heartily endorse ALL THE ACTS of our president, Grover Cleveland, and secretary of the treasury, John G. Carlisle," also Judge Rufus Hardy, sound money state chairman, was endorsed.

Populists Notice.

Populists of Collin county should take heed of Chairman Forbes' call for the central club meeting Monday Dec. 7. SWINE DEPARTMENT.

T. M. Wilson has recently added to his herd of Poland-Chinas a fancy registered brood sow of the black U. S. strain and bred to the famous Perfection Medium boar, on the Greenbush farm, Early, Ia. Mr. Wilson purchased this sow from A. L. Mason, a veteran breeder of Poland-Chinas and proprietor of the Greenbush stock farm, at a fancy price.

In a few days T. M. expects a fine boar from the same place.

Dr. Wyley has also added a registered brood sow to his herd of Poland-Chinas, from Wathene, Kansas.

H. E Singleton has added another boar of fancy breeding to his already famous Cedar Vale herd of Poland Chinas.

This all speaks well for the swine interests of old Collin, and in the near future indicates a healthier, happier, greasier faced lot of folks, instead of the now pale, sickly, cotton patch countenances, and we do hope our people will give these gentlemen the proper encouragement for their energies in this direction.

Come, breeders, wake up; feed and rub your pigs, smooth their coats and trim them up nice enough for a shady little nook in the columns of THE DEMOCRAT and we will carry them to every home in Collin county, and find [illegible] buyers for every one you [illegible] will give you a swine department that will be worth reading EVERY issue.

FROM A. L. COLE.

McKinney, Tex., Sept. 21, 1895.
Editor Democrat:

Regarding swine I wish to state that I have, of the Essex stock, four registered sows and one male, also a litter of pigs nine days old. I regard the Essex as a gentle stock which will fatten at any age on most any kind of food.

Trusting to read in your columns many items of interest to swine breeders I remain. Most resptfully, A. L. COLE.

DEATHS.

Infant of John Dyer died Sept 18.

Infant of Sylvester Payne died Sept. 18.

Mrs. Julia A. Burress, aged 80 years, died Sept. 19.

Mrs. Nellie Moore, aged 34 years, died Sept 19 of congestion of the stomach.

Infant of G. Duncan died Sept. 21.

Harris Caldwell, aged 30 years, died Sept. 21, of consumption.

Walter D., son Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hollander, died in McKinney Friday, Sept. 20, after a long spell of fever. Up until noon of the day previous to his death he seemed to be well on the road to recovery from a severe siege of fever, but a back-set, beginning with a congestive chill, soon ended his young career. Pet, as he was called, was only 16 years old, but left many friends who deeply sympathize with the sorrowing parents and family. Burial next day in Pecan Grove cemetery. Eld. Crutcher conducted the funeral exercises.

Lebanon Siftings.

Lebanon, Tex., Sept. 23, 1895.
Editor Democrat:

The ice cream supper given at the Methodist church last Friday [illegible] was a grand success.

A little girl by the name of Pearce died two miles north of Lebanon on the 14th inst., of something like blood poison. It has only been a few months since her father fell into a deep spring and was drowned. She was interred at 1 o'clock Sunday in the Rowlett cemetery beside her father.

Antony Garrison returned last Monday from Oklahoma. He, with his family, will move there in the near future.

Cotton here is not so good as was hoped, owing to the drouth and boll worms.

RELIGION AND POLITICS.

We often hear it said that religion has no business in poltics or that politics has no business in religion, or in other words that religion and politics will not mix. Whether this propsition is true or not we leave the reader to contrast it with this: As is a man's religion so is his politics, or in other words his ideas of human association and human government constitute an infallible rule by which to determine his religion in geueral. Every human being has some notion of a supreme being or power above that of man and it does not matter how crude and heathenish his notions may be they form his ideal of human government and of civil polity.

The religious notions of nations have always formed their ideal of civil polity. It was such notions that formed the incentives to such civilization as they enjoyed. The more exalted their ideas of their gods the more refined their civilization and human government.

Without doubt a man's politics is an infallible rule to judge his religion, whether the two will mix or not. A tree is known by its fruit. The religion of a nation is known by its government. Ye are his servants whom ye obey, is the language of holy writ, and a man will obey his god whether he be god or mammon. If his god be mammon and he comes into power in civil government you may rest assured he will serve his god, mammon, in such a position. If his god licenses corruption rest assured he will perform it. If our government is corrupt it is because it has fallen into the hands of those whose god is one of license and corruption, and it has fallen into [illegible] of [illegible] into their hands are no better than those to whom they have yielded obedience. A man's faith will govern him. If he believes in a god of purity, love, justice, truth and power he will exert his human powers in this direction whether he has a sword or a ballot in his hand, and if he does not exert his powers in this way it is because he does not have faith in such a god. Religion is more powerful than civil government, it depending upon religion which has always dictated and will always continue to dictate civil policies in human affairs.

If the religion of a people demand a government of justice, love, mercy, truth and power, (and this will depend on their faith in such a god) such will be their civil policy and such their form of government, but if their religion demands a government of monopoly and boodle such will they have. How many preachers and priests of the people are doing religious service for boodle alone. How many judges upon the bench, legislators at the capitals and executives in high places are doing service for boodle and boodle only. How many officials of public, corporate and private concerns, from the lowest to the highest in office, from clerk and salesman to president of corporate concerns, and in ecclesiastical matters from layman to bishop and pope are doing service for boodle and boodle alone. Read the papers and statistics for information.

Whether politics and religion will mix or not it is very plain that civil policies and governments are the outgrowth and expression of the religion of the people who adopt them. It is said that a man ought to vote as he prays. With the heart man praveth and with the mouth confession is made. We say that a man does vote as he prays in his heart, no matter what his lips may confess, and our government, whatever it is, is the expression of the people, no matter how their lips move. If it a government of boodle it is because its people has faith in the god of mammon and not Israel's god. Let us look to our firesides, our schools and pulpits and see what is there and what is not there. The commercial world, the business world, the government itself is the outgrowth and expression of our religion. If the god of mammon lurks around our firesides set upon him with a mighty force and drive him away. If he is controlling our commercial and business world chase him to his own regions. If he hides among the purple draperies of the pulpit smoke him out. Hunt him down in every place, in politics, in religion, in business and put him to the sword and to death; then and not till then will you see purity in your government. Clean our religious temples and then our national temples will readily yield to cleansing. Purify your religion and you can then purge the nation. There is no time to be lost, Begin at once for we will soon have to render an accaunt of our stewardship. AMERICAN.

NEW AND OLD WOLD

Circuses, Menageries and Hippodrome Prominently Associated.

Our readers will learn by reference to our advertising columns that Sands & Astley's New and Old World shows are to exhibit here at McKinney on Monday, Oct. 7. Comparatively few, however, who refer to the advertisement are aware of the fact that these shows have a history the most remarkable in amusement annals. This amusement enterprise is the outgrowth of the ocnsolidation of two of the largest shows in existence, one an American the other a British institution. In 1890 a jointure was made of Robt. Sands' great American circus and menagerie with Herbert Astley's grand English circus, hippodrome, menagerie, museum and curio exposition. The compact was made in the city of London, and after touring England, Ireland and Scotland the united amusement venture crossed over to the continent and exhibited in France, Belgium, Switzerland, Holland, Germany, Russia, Turkey, Algiers, Egypt, China, Japan, the Sandwich Islands and is now touring the United States prior to visitng Central America, Mexico and South America. There is no show, either in the past or present, that has traveled as many thousand miles, exhibited to such myriads of people or that has won a more exalted and enviable reputation.

Editor Democrat:

The alliance at this place had a pleasant time Friday eve the 20th inst. Brother Dorn of Verona gave us a good talk and we feel that our spiritual strength is considerably renewed.

The sol-me-do man's school will close at this place this evening. He will begin school at Sister Grove Tuesday evening.

Cotton picking is the order of the day, and everbody is getting along well. We are glad to note that our crop is better than we expected it would be.

Our physicians say health is improving.

We hear several of our farmers talking of planting more wheat.

We will have to pull down our barns and build larger ones in order to have somewhere to store our corn.

Attention, Confederates!

Mrs. Katie Cabell Currie, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy, writes me that Thursday, Oct. 24, 1895 has been set apart by the Dallas fair as Confederate day and that 15 per cent of the gate receipts on that day will be turned over to them to be used in the erection of a grand monument to the confederate soldiers. The Daughters of the Confederacy will run a dining hall on the fair grouads during the fair. Gen. Wade Hampton, Miss Lucy Hill, daughter of Gen. Hill, and many other confederate celebrities will be present at the fair. Mrs. L. L. Jester, "The Song Bird" of Texas, will be present and sing "Home, Sweet Home" for the benefit of confederates and their friends.

It is earnestly to be hoped that all confederates and their numerous friends will be present on the 24th of October and extend a liberal patronage to our noble and untiring friends, the "Daughters of the Confederacy" Respectfully,
J. M. PEARSON.

Saturday business was livlier than usual.

Seven drummers in one evening last week!!

The section workmen have put in some much needed repairs on the railroad tract between Hedrick and Burton's switch.

The crop of sorghum cane was never known to be better than it is this year. Some six or eight mills, within a radius of four miles, have been running for the past month or six weeks, turning out hundreds of gallons of good syrup.

Barnett's gin has pressed 116 bales of cotton up to date.

Mr. Samuels, manager of the Greenville cotton seed and oil mills, was looking after seed at this point Tuesday.

Mr. Hal Miller's infant, two weeks old, died Sunday night and was buried Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Boorman returned from Denison Tuesday night. The sad fate of Mrs. Boorman's mother, Mrs. Isaacs, who was burned to death at her son's residence in Denison Monday, an account of which appeared in Tuesday's Dallas News, was a great shock to this community and her many friends, and their hearts go out to them in sympathy.

Myrtle, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. Fletcher Bates, died, after a lingering illness, Tuesday. Friday their home was again saddened by the death of their 5-months-old infant.

Mrs. Blackwelder and little son, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Elfird, returned to their home in Temple Tuesday.

Elder R. C. Horn arrived Saturday evening, the 14th inst., and began a protracted meeting. Sunday the 15th was Rev. Airheart's regular appointment at this place the fact of which was overlooked by the brethren of the other denomination in beginning their meeting, but as Bro. Horn's time is always occupied ahead, and he has to go when the appointment comes, the matter was pleasantly compromised by Bro. Airheart preaching an able sermon at 11 on the "Pastor's duty toward his flock," and Bro. Horn filling the pulpit at night. Bro. Airheart was to have been assited by Rev. Seagraves in the ordination of two deacons, but from some cause he failed to come and the service was postponed until the next regular appointment. Bro. Horn's tent was put in readiness Monday, and fairly good audiences, considering the busy season of crop gathering, have been in attendance at every service. It was announced during the week that a basket dinner would be spread on the grounds Sunday after the 11 o'clock service and from the number of well filled baskets, boxes and trunks that were brought, it seemed that the good people intended that no one should go away unfed, and not one did. There was plenty for the large crowd assembled and enough left over for supper. Two hours were spent in pleasant conversation and brotherly fellowship, after which Bro. Crutcher, from McKinney, took the stand and discoursed upon what their organization preached and practiced. The day was enjoyed both socially and spiritually. Those who attended from a distance were: Mr. John Martin and daughter, Miss Cora, Mr. Younger and daughters, Misses Rachel and Maggie, from Viney Grove; T. M. Wilson and family, Mrs. Harriet Wilson and family, Mr. Ben Oates and Miss Mattie Horn, Giles McKinney, Mr. Stuart and daughters from McKinney. Knarfhpesoj.

EUGENE.

We regret to learn of much sickness in the family of Capt R. F. Jones, who lives several miles northwest of McKinney.

Mrs. J. P. Bell, Ossawatomie, Kan. wife of the editor of The Graphic, the leading local paper of Miami county, writes "I was troubled with heart disease for six years, severe palpitations, shortness of breath, together with such extreme nervousness, that, at times I would walk the floor nearly all night. We consulted the best medical talent. They said there was no help for me, that I had organic disease of the heart for which there was no remedy. I had read your advertisement in The Graphic and a year ago, as a last resort, tried one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart, which convinced me that there was true merit in it. I took three bottles each of the Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine and It completely cured me. I sleep well at night, my heart beats regularly and I have no more smothering spells. I wish to say to all who are suffering as I did; there's relief untold for them if they will only give your remedies just one trial."

Dr. Miles Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at $1, 6 bottles for $5, or it will be sent, prepaid, on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

The Shakers have made a discovery which is destined to accomplish much good. Realizing that three-fourths of all our sufferings arise from stomach troubles, that the country is literally filled with people who cannot eat and digest food, without subsequently suffering pain and distress, and that many are starving, wasting to mere skeletons, because their food does them no good, they have devoted much study and thought to the subject, and the result is this discovery of their digestive cordial. A little book can be obtained from your druggist that will point out the way of relief at once. An investigation will cost nothing and will result in much good.

I have been using it at times for three years for Dyspepsia and Nervousness with the most gratifying results. I think it is due this wonderful medicine to say that I have known a number of ministers and others who have taken it and so far as I now remember they all speak of its carative and strengthening effects with unstinted praise. No one who buys it and uses as directed for the troubles for which it is recommended will exchange it for any other medicine." New package, large bottle. 108 doses $1. For sale by Smith Bros.

COTTON UP.

Yesterday, for the first time this season in McKinney, the train of cotton wagons reached from the cotton wharf to the public square. A gladsome and more hopeful look adorned the countenances of the patient farmers as they moved slowly forward in turn to the scales after which they were to actually receive from 8 to 8¼ cents for their cotton. It is to be hoped that the price of the South's leading staple will remain up to a living point, at least, for its producers. Violett, the great cotton broker, gives it as his opinion in this morning's associated dispatches that the fleecy staple will go to 10 cents.

John Renois is making quite a reputation for removing cancers. He is now engaged in removing a cancer from the face of a Mr Welch in this city.

The Kentucky Store's millinery opening the past week was one of the events of the season because of its great array of headwear styles for McKinney's fair ones. The hats were pronounced "perfectly lovely" by the throngs of ladies that daily visited the store. Miss Margie Fulenwider, the manager, who spends all her time between seasons in the fashionable centres of the north and east, kindly directed a reporter through the display, but cold type can no more convey an idea of the beauty of this full assortment than a mere word painting can of a beautiful sunset.

ANOTHER BLAZE.

About 2 o'lock p. m. Saturday fire broke out in Mrs. Dr. Calhoun's residence on West Louisiana street. The fire department was promptly on hand and did splendid work in checking the flames. All the household effects were removed and the fire held under control by the chemical apparatus until the engine, which was slightly delayed in getting to work, could dash its strong streams upon and extinguish the flames. The roof of the building was entirely burned off besides other damage to the front and scorching of inside walls.

The loss was entirely covered by insurance. The building being insured for $1000 and the household fixtures for $500.

The fire department wishes to acknowledge the enthusiastic, noble assistance rendered by the Denison base ball boys during this fire. These visitors were here and dressed ready to engage our local team in a match game of ball when the fire alarm was given when they responded, working like Trojans until all was safe.

The department is also indebted to Dr. Webb for kindly rendering professional services to two of its members, Sebe Houston and Walter Wiley, who sustained slight but painful injuries during this fire.

Rev. J. L. Morris preached a masterful sermon Sunday at the Methodist church. He denounced ungodliness and corruption that prevails among our high public servants and legislators, in unmeasured terms and deprecated the coming prize fight in our state, laying the blame therefor at the door of the legislature, for enacting vague laws and for its wanton carelessness.

Hon. John Church's lecture Sunday evening before the C. E. Society of the first Presbyterian church in this city, was replete in simple, pure and ennobling thought and bore many interesting evidences of thoroughness in Egyptian lore.

PIMPLES, BLOTCHES AND OLD SORES CATARRH, MALARIA, KIDNEY TROUBLES and DYSPEPSIA

P. P. P. purifies the blood, builds up the weak and debilitated, gives strength to weakened nerves, expels diseases, giving the patient health and happiness where sickness, gloomy feelings and lassitude first prevailed.

For primary, secondary and tertiary syphilis, for blood poisoning, mercurial poison, malaria, dyspepsia, and in all blood and skin diseases, like blotches, pimples, old chronic ulcers, tetter, scald head, boils, erysipelas, eczema—we may say, without fear of contradiction, that P. P. P. is the best blood purifier in the world, and makes positive, speedy and permanent cures in all cases.

Ladies whose systems are poisoned and whose blood is in an impure condition, due to menstrual irregularities, are peculiarly benefited by the wonderful tonic and blood cleansing properties of P. P. P.—Prickly Ash, Poke Root and Potassium.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 14th, 1893. —I can speak in the highest terms of your medicine from my own personal knowledge. I was affected with heart disease, pleurisy and rheumatism for 35 years, was treated by the very best physicians and spent hundreds of dollars, tried every known remedy without finding relief. I have only taken one bottle of your P. P. P., and can cheerfully say it has done me more good than anything I have ever taken. I can recommend your medicine to all sufferers of the above diseases.

MRS. J. L. ISAACS.

Monday morning between 11 and 12 o'clock a horrible death from fire occurred at 1121 West Owings street, this city, the victim being Mrs. J. L. Isaacs, a demented lady 54 years of age, and recently from Princeton, Collin county, Texas. It appears that some ten or twelve years ago Mrs. Isaacs lost her mind and was placed in the asylum at Austin. Later she was removed to Terrell. In 1892 she was granted a furlough and she went to reside with her son-in-law, Dr. T. G. Boorman, and family at Princeton. She grew better and in 1893 she was fully discharged. Some two or three months ago her mind again gave way and as she had a son residing in this city it was decided for her to come on here with the hope that the change would prove beneficial. The change, however, did no good and last week Emmet Isaacs, the son, telegraphed Dr. Boorman to come on to Denison as his mother seemed to grow worse daily. Dr. Boorman and family came immediately and it was decided best to have the lady returned to Terrell and arrangements had been made looking to that end. At the hour indicated above and while all the members of the family were at home except Emmet, who was at work in the M., K. & T. shops, Mrs. Isaacs concealed a snuff bottle filled with coal oil under her clothing and went out to the closet. Mrs. Emmet Isaacs noticed that her mother remained out a little longer than usual and started to see the cause of delay. Just before reaching the closet the door was pushed open and on the inside the daughter saw the form of the mother enveloped in flames of fire. Mrs. Isaacs Sr., then ran out into the yard and fell to the ground. The daughter screamed and called for help. Dr. Boorman and wife and a large number of neighbors quickly gathered and everything possible was done to save the lady's life but death soon relieved her of her suffering. During all the time of the fire she said not a word and after she had been removed to the house she stated that she would soon be dead and there would be no use sending for a doctor. The remains were interred Tuesday morning in Oakwood cemetery.—Denison Gazetteer, Sunday, Sept. 22.

BLAND ADVOCATES A BOLT.

Voters Urged to Abandon Old Parties for Free Silver.

TREASURER STEPHENS FOLLOWS IN THE SAME VEIN.

Laclede, Mo., Sept. 14.—The Corn Festival and Silver Jubilee that had been extensively advertised to take place in Brookfield to-day did not occur, owing to the fact that the date conflicted with the Laclede (Linn county) fair. Gov. Stone, State Treasurer Stephens, "Silver Dick" Bland and Col. Crisp had been announced as the orators of the day. The corn festival part of the programme was dropped the first of the week, and the free silver part attached to the Laclede fair. There were about 7000 people here this afternoon, attracted by the fat stock, tall corn and Missouri's free silver quartet.

Mr Bland arrived at noon and Lon Stephens at 4 o'clock. A telegram from Gov. Stone stated that he had missed his train and could not reach Laclede to-day. Col. Crisp had been prostrated by the heat yesterday, and he also could not be here. Mr. Bland in his address said in part:

"There is abroad in the land a spirit of independence. People, to a great extent, are throwing off party ties and voting for principles. The subsidized metropolitan press, with few exceptions, fails to advocate the cause of the people. They are looking for an advocate. Gold bugs and silverites alike acknowledge that the present condition demands a change. In '92 the people voted for a change and got it, but it was a change for the worse. The gold bugs laid their plans in bills introduced in congress and in President Cleveland's message, but they failed of indorsement at the hands of the people. They only repealed the purchasing clause of the Sherman law. The gold standard part was untouched. Gold is going out of the treasury faster than the Rothschilds can replace it. Gold is at a premium the world over: you cannot draw gold from the Bank of France without paying a premium on it. It is the same with the Bank of England, and also of Germany, but our treasury is unprotected. The gold is constantly withdrawn, which necessitates the perpetual sale of bonds.

ABANDONMENT OF PARTIES URGED.

"The day has gone by for voting your party ticket. It is a struggle between life and death. All political parties must face the music or be swept from the face of the earth.

"Goldbugs say a silver dollar is worth only 50 cents. The American silver dollar is worth as much in other countries as it is at home. One million silver dollars are worth as much in London as that much gold. The bullion is only worth 50 cents, but under free coinage it would be worth $1. When France had free coinage she maintained a parity between the two metals throughout the world. The United States could do the same now. Silver can't be inflated. It costs in labor $1 to produce a dollar's worth of silver. A silver dollar is worth a dollar the world over. Free coinage would increase the money of the world. It would raise the price of farm products 20 per cent and reduce the price of bonds and mortgages. In 1894 we voted for a change and got a worse one. Cleveland and Carlisle are worse than John Sherman."

STEPHENS DISLIKES PARTY LINES.

State Treasurer Stephens arrived at 4 o'clock and was immediately introduced. In opening he referred to "the crime of 1873, when silver was struck down."

"I am for sound money, both gold and silver," said he. "Four-fifths of the voters of Missouri are for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1: for honest bimetallism. We have been following party lines blindly. We are rapidly drifting into monarchy. A revolution confronts us. We have listened too long to the voice of a subsidized press. I am a candidate for no office whatever, and propose to speak right out in meeting. This country must no longer be ruled and ruined by the gold bug bankers of Wall street. We must not let a season of prosperity side-track us. I see trouble ahead from the financial misfortunes and crimes from which we have suffered. Keep up the agitation and throw off party ties."

R. C. and V. E. McCowley and Robert Dickerson, all under 19, picked 1758 pounds of cotton between sunrise and sunset near Hillsboro on the 20th inst. The cotton picked was grown from seed of the state premium cotton at Dallas last year.

SAM JONES.

The Great Revivalist Shows That It is High Time to Carry Religion Into Politics.

The following sentences were uttered by Sam Jones in a sermon preached at Emory Grove campmeeting, Maryland, about four weeks ago:

"I wouldn't vote for a man put up by the damnable old red-nosed democratic party or the infernal old hypocritical republican party, not if he were an angel sent from Heaven. He's in too bad company. I can hear lots of you church members saying: 'I'll vote for a good man on any ticket,' but you'll vote for the old party every trip. There ain't a hair on your neck. You belong to them from snout to tail. You may hang me by the neck until I am stone dead if I ever vote for either old party again.

POLITICS FROM THE PULPIT.

"I want to see old Maryland proclaim her liberty at the polls this fall. I can hear some of you saying now: 'Oh, Mr. Jones, you are talking politics from the pulpit!' You need currying, you do, and you need it bad too. Anybody who knows Sam Jones knows that I am urged on in what I have to say about political questions by a profound, abiding, eternal, uncompromising interest in the women and children of this land.

A WARNING TO SATAN.

"If the devil were standing at the gates of hell and a lot of those damnable old politicians such as can be found in plenty in Washington, in Maryland, in my own state of Georgia, in every state, had died and were to come to him—and I'm sure they will—I feel certain that he'd keep them at bay and let them in one by one and a month apart. If all of them were to get in at once they'd pretty soon call a caucus, knock the devil in the head and elect a devil of their own."

PROCLAMATION.

Dublin, Tex., Aug. 30, 1895.

To the members of the farmer's Alliance of Texas, greeting:

Dear Brothers and Sisters—In assuming the duties of our office we realize the fact that the condition of the order is better for an aggressive year's work than one year ago. The order is out of debt and a general revival spirit is manifested throughout the state. Having doubled our membership during the past year we feel confident that, with a proper effort we can treble the number during the present year. During the last year we traveled over 5,000 miles in the interest of the order and without one dollar's cost to the State Alliance. This burden is too great for us to repeat during this year and no provision having been made for our expenses while in the field as a lecturer it will be impossible for us to devote our time to lecturing. Lecturing must be pressed if we would place the order on that high plane where it properly belongs.

We are at a loss to know what policy to pursue in order that we may be able to continue the work of the order. There is to-day a demand for work in at least fifty weak and disorganized counties that are not able to support a lecturer. They could be reorganized at once if we could reach them. In these disorganized counties we cannot constitutionally appoint assistant lecturers for the reason that there are no members there in good standing therefore I would recommend to the executive committee that they confine the state lecturer to these counties as far as possible, myself being retired from the lecture field for the want of the necessary support. This is the only way we can hope to reach these disorganized counties. In organizing counties we want a sufficient number of assistant lecturers, who will devote part of their time to the work—who will look after the work in their respective counties. I will give the order my best efforts under existing circumstances, and with the assistance of the brotherhood I believe we can continue the growth of the order. Therefore we appeal to every Allianceman to place his shoulder to the wheel and pull earnestly for the continued advancement of the alliance the only hope for the triumph of the people. May God move upon the hearts of our people and inspire them with hope and renewed energy. Yours faithfully,
EVAN JONES.

The Superior... Single Disc Drill.

This Machine

Is especially adapted to the black lands of Texas, and we unhesitatingly recommend it to our many friends and customers to be first-class in all respects.

We Guarantee

It to work in corn stalks, cotton stalks, and all kinds of trash, and it is the only drill made where the operator is not bothered with trash. Call and see this machine when in the city as it will pay all farmers interested in good machinery to investigate this before buying a drill. You run no risk as we guarantee it and if it don't do the work it's no sale.
